

Currently, there are no government safety requirements for the performance of driverless technologies on cars or trucks. If you knew that companies had to meet minimum government safety requirements for their driverless cars and trucks, would that address your concerns?

EMBARGOED UNTIL 2/2/22 AT 11AM